An Executor's Bill Reveals Facts About the White Lead Trust.

HOW STOCK IS SOLD ON 'CHANGE. Judge Ewing Decides That Diamond Alley Can be Widened.

OTHER GENERAL NEWS OF THE COURTS

A bearing was had before Judge Over in the Orphans' Court, yesterday, in the case of the exceptions of the heirs of B. L. Fahnestock to the amount of commission claimed by B. S. Fahnestock, executor of the will. Messrs. Schoyer and Dunseath represented the heirs, and the executor was represented by Messrs. Schmidt and Reed.

In the case of B. F. Stewars, the converted harber, against Alderman Porter, to recover damages for alleged illegal fees collected, a rule was issued yesterday, on Stewart to show cause why the case should not be quashed. The commission claimed by the executor is 4 per cent, amounting to about $30,000. The Dawson, to recover damages for injury to eirs contend that this fee is excessive for the amount of work performed.

In the argument of the case some light was let into the affairs of the National White Lead Trust and a reflection of the light was cast upon the ways of Wall street. The attorneys upon the ways of Wall street. The attorneys for the executor, in showing to the court that the services of the executor were worth what he claims, explained what some of his services consisted of. Upon the formation of the National White Lead Trust, it was stated, E. L. Fahnestock and the other members of the Fahnestock Lead Compony entered the trust. Their works were turned over to the terminal works. entered the trust. Their works were turned over to the trust at their own valuation, and in lieu thereof they received four times the valuation thus placed on the works, in the stock of the trust. Mr. Fahnestock's interest in the works was valued at $80,000, and he received stock to the amount of $250,000. One of the conditions made when the trust was formed was that none of its stock should be put on the market for a year after the date of the agreement. In the meantime Mr. Fahnestock died.

sired to sell the stock to settle up the estate, it was found that there was no market for it. The was found that there was no market for it. The managers of the trust, when they found that this was the state of affairs, put the stock on the New York Exchange. Several brokers were engaged to manipulate it, and they did so. Their plan was to put up the stock for sale and one of them would buy it. Another broker concerned in the game would then buy it off the last purchaser at an advanced price. Thus the stock would go round the ring, being constantly beomed. While the ring, being constantly boomed. While this scheme was being worked, B. S. Fahnestock, the executor of B. L. Fahnestock, engaged a broker to go in and sell short. He did so, and unloaded $250,000 worth of stock, at 22 per share, the par value being $100 per The other brokers bought the stock as oon as offered, thinking that there was no tock to be delivered, and that it was only a paper sale such as they had been making. They soon found that it was a bona fide sale, and despite a big kick in the Exchange against the aggravated assault and battery; Peter Conway and Martin Koedler, assault and battery; Rose Gallagher, selling liquor on Sunday; Alex Maeder, selling liquor without license; John Harkin, attempted larceny. A BIASED LOWER COURT.

A Philadelphia Judge Receives Judge Sterrett's Censure. One hundred thousand dollars was at stake | gans, in the case of Reichenbach at al vs Ruddach Philadelphia, Dr. Ruddach married on No-rember 13, 1884, made a will bequeathing his estate on November 15, same year, and died the next day. The plaintiff alleged unsound mind on the part of the testator, and inherited taste for liquor, and undue influence. The charge was made that testator's father had been conwas made that testator's father had been confined in an insane hospital.

Justice Green reviewed the case, saying:
"When the will was made no evidence whatever existed of general insanity. The answer to that charge should have been qualified so as subject the testimony to action of the jury, which, failing to be satisfied, would throw the burden of proof upon the defendants. This assignment must be sustained." The action of the lower court in allowing undue prominence of one side of the testimony is censured and the following extract from the charge of the lower court is esteemed prejudiced: "Then anxiety about the safety of testator's property and mind seemed to have commenced after his death." Judgment reversed.

THE PETITION IGNORED.

Judge Ewing Decides the City Can Widen Diamond Alley.

Judge Ewing vesterday refused to enjoin the city from widening Diamond street, as asked by the Howard estate heirs. He decided that $13.

P. C. C. C., the city had a right to widen the street and Cor. Grant and Diamond sts., opp. the new that such a widening is a new improvement for which local property can be assessed. The which local property can be assessed. The serious question raised by the proceedings, he raid, was that assailing the constitutionality of the street act, under which the improvement is sought to be made. The act did violate certain provisions of the Constitution if it is not saved by the power of the Legislature to classify cities and legislate for them. The Supreme Court has decided that there can be three classes of cities, so this cannot be doubted. Judge Ewing cited a number of cases where this had been upheld and then refused the injunction with leave to the complainants, on an attempt of the defendants to take actual possession of the property, to move the Court for an injunction.

MRS. M'CONNELL WINS.

But the Supreme Court Will Hear the Case Argued This Mouth. The case of Matilda G. McConnell vs Rees Lindsay was decided by Judge Ewing yesterday in favor of Mrs. McConnell in the sum of $32,000. The case was an amicable one. Lind-$32,000. The case was an amicable one. Lindsay bought a piece of property in the East End from Mrs. McConnell, who had inherited by will of Mrs. Emeline Gross, widow of the late A. H. Gross. Under the provisions of the will it was doubtful if Mrs. McConnell could give a clear title, and the suit was brought to decide this point. Under an agreement the case was at once appealed to the Supreme Court, and will be argued in the last week of this month. This will set at rest the title of the large Gross estate in the East Liberty Valley.

TO RESTRAIN THE B. & O. Braddock Citizens Claim the Road is En-crosching on Public Property. A bill in equity was filed yesterday by the borough of Braddock against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. It was stated Rosenbaum & Co. s. that the railroad company, whose tracks extend along Haiket street, have without au-thority or right, been gradually eucroaching on the balance of the street. They now have an additional track all along the north side of the street, and propose to put one along the south side. An injunction is asked for to restrain them from laying the track on the south side, and a decree to compel them to remove the track on the north side.

W. H. HOLMES & SON,

158 First Avenue and 120 Water Street. "HOLMES BEST" INSTITUTED IN 1858. Attention is directed to the very fine stock of whiskies carried by this house, compris-ing Holmes, Gibson and Finch of all ages, selected in a careful and consistent manner for family and medicinal purposes. It is also the headquarters for all the leading imported goods, viz: French brandies, wines, gins, rums, cordials and champagne of undoubted character and worth. The specialty of the house is "Holmes Best," a whisky put on the market 31 years ago, the standard of which has been sustained in a marked de-gree ever since. Testimonials of its purity and excellence have been furnished by Government officials and chemists whose indorsement is unimpeachable. Physicians likewise recommend this article as a stimulant of great worth in cases of typhoid fever and disorder of the digestive organs. A remedial agent so dependable is surely a boon to convalescents. The fame of Holmes' Best has reached beyond the seas, and visitors to the great Exposition at Paris have been supplied with the genuine article through Mr. A. D. Gaillard, No. 30 Boule-vard des Capucines. This foreign agent testifies in an emphatic manner regarding its popularity, not only among Americans and Britons, but has found that the true

Parisian has learned to use and enjoy it as a very excellent American drink.

The Chicago branch of Messrs. W. H.
Holmes & Son is at No. 264 South Clark street, and the citizens of the Western metropolis unite with Paris and Pittsburg in their indorsement of this favorite beverage. Visitors to our own Exposition and fami lies in our midst should not fail to seek the aid of W. H. Holmes & Son in supplying their wants in this direction. Anything needed can be ordered by mail, or telephone No. 305, and every attention will be given toward meeting their wants promptly and satisfactorily. A Bargain-Fine Upright Piano-$190. A magnificent 71/4-octave upright piano, with very latest improvements, excellent tone and richly carved rosewood case. embraced in the same proposal, but no bid for a portion of a class will be considered. Each proposal must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the bidder is able to furnish and deliver the material for which he bids: also, by a certified check, payable to the order of the Secretary of the Navy, for an amount equal to five per cent of the bid. The check received from the successful bidder will be returned to him on his entering into a formal contract for the due performance of the work and giving bond for the same, with satisfactory surety, in a penal sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the amount of his bid; but in case he shall fail to enter into such contract and to give such bend within twenty days after notice of the accoptance of his proposal, the check accompanying such proposal shall become the property of the United States. All checks accompanying proposals which are not accepted will be returned immediately after the award shall have been made. A schedule of the material required and all other information essential to bidders will be furnished on application to the Bureau of Steam Engineering, Navy Department, Proposals must be made in duplicate and inclosed in envelopes marked "Proposals for material for machinery of cruisers Nos." and 8," and addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, Navy Department, Washington, D.
